The Institution establishes a recruitment system by which faculty interested in offering courses can submit a curriculum vitae for evaluation. The following protocol is used for the recruitment and hiring of faculty and other human resources needed for new programs or academic offerings:

a. Each academic college must include in its work plan and annual budget a request to hire the necessary personnel to cover the needs of the academic offerings according to their enrollment.
b. When applying to fill existing or newly created positions, the college must indicate the number of students to be impacted and the date the program is expected to commence.
c. The request must be considered and approved in the Work Plan Budget of the Office of Academic Affairs.
d. The Dean of Academic Affairs submits the request to the Budget Office to identify the funds and / or the impact of the increase, if the position is newly created
e. Once the funds are identified, the Human Resources Office publishes an internal and external employment posting setting minimum requirements which must be directly related to the job, taking into consideration that faculty who teach in a program must have a higher academic degree than the level of the program (disciplines), major or specialty to be taught.
f. The employment posting is disseminated through the most appropriate and convenient media as determined by the institution in each case.

g. At the conclusion of the posting deadline, the Office of Human Resources, in coordination with the Director of the College appoints an interview committee to evaluate applications and conduct interviews. This committee includes faculty from the new academic program or academic offering.

h. The committee recommends qualified candidates to the Director of College.

i. The College Director meets with the candidate and submits the recommendation to the Dean of Academic Affairs, who in turn submits the request for the appointment to the President.
